BioPitch

BIOPITCH is an exciting pitch competition for seed and early-stage life science companies, providing a unique platform for innovative start-ups to connect with and pitch to top life science investors. Finalists will advance to the Florida Innovation Conference, Wednesday, October 14 to Friday, October 16 in Orlando.

Who Should Apply?

We are seeking applicants who are:

- Developing products in biotechnology, pharmaceuticals, medical devices, diagnostics, digital health, healthcare services, or plant/animal sciences.
- Seeking seed and early-stage funding.*

*Applicants must comply with all applicable securities laws in connection with any financing.

- Prior BioPitch Winners are not eligible to apply again.

Why Participate?

- Exclusive Pitch Sessions: Selected companies will pitch to life science investors.
- High-Profile Exposure: Winners announced during conference general session and awarded cash prizes.
- Stay tuned for additional details!

*Involvement in the BioPitch session allows for an opportunity to present your company's business plan and highlight opportunities for investment to a panel of venture capitalists and angel investors. Participation does not represent endorsement by BioFlorida nor guarantee funding.
